

WELCOME TO RUGBY

Centre info

Rugby School, founded in 1567, is one of the oldest boarding schools in the country and is steeped in history. Many famous people have lived and learnt in the school, such as Lewis Carroll - the famous author of Alice's Adventures in Wonderland. However, this location is probably best known internationally as the place where William Webb Ellis - a student at the school - picked up the ball during a game of football, inventing the game of Rugby by running with the ball.
